WAR APPROACHING.

Russian Troops Concentrating on the Frontier.

AUSTRIA MASSING HER TROOPS.

Great Activity in the War Office at Vienna—Germany Decides to Strengthen Her Garrisons—Crisis at Buenos Ayres. Fight Among the Workmen—Other News from Abroad.

LONDON, April 9.—The Standard's St. Petersburg and Jassy correspondents continue to report activity among the Russian troops, great numbers of which are being massed on the Austro-Hungarian frontier. The Jassy correspondent gives detailed accounts of the movement of the troops.

A Vienna dispatch says that the Austrian government, not being reassured by Russia's denial of unfriendly designs, has already concentrated large bodies of troops at Farno, Olund Brody to watch the Galician frontier. The Tenth corps, under Reinlander, has been reinforced by a portion of the First corps, and Prince Windischgrätz, of the Eleventh, is watching the frontier with a large force of cavalry.

Count Hertenau, formerly Prince Alexander of Bulgaria, who is now an officer in Austrian service, has been called into consultation at the war office with the view of utilizing his services in an important command. The Austrian authorities have great confidence in the abilities of the prince, which were proven in the war between Serbia and Bulgaria. It is said that the Austrian government has important secret information from Russia, which is the basis of its warlike preparations.

Apparently by some understanding with Austria, Germany has suddenly begun to increase the forces near the Russian frontier and to hasten the completion of the works intended to facilitate the transportation of troops.

All indications go to show that a Russian invasion would be made by formidable armies, whether first directed against Austria or Germany or both countries at once. On the French side Germany has a series of fortresses that could not fail to delay invasion long enough to give ample time for the concentration of an army.

Riot Among Workmen.

MUNICH, April 9.—News has reached this city of a serious riot at Hof, in Upper Franconia, on the Saale. It appears that a number of imported Potlacks were engaged in laying a cable at that place when they were directly attacked by unemployed Saxon and Bavarian workmen. The Poles resisted, and a desperate struggle ensued. Stones, sticks, and in some instances, knives were used by both parties. In the melee twenty-five men were more or less seriously wounded. The police were unable to cope with the enraged workmen, and it was found necessary to call on the troops of the garrison for assistance in restoring order. The military responded promptly and succeeded in quieting the disturbance.

Crisis at Buenos Ayres.

LONDON, April 9.—Advices from Buenos Ayres say that the Argentine cabinet yesterday signed a decree suspending until next June the payment of the deposits in the National and Provincial banks, and ordering to depositors the option of taking internal bonds in exchange for their deposits. A fusion of both banks into one concern, to be known as the Banco de la Republica, is proposed by the government. The decree, which was unexpected, has created an unfavorable impression in financial circles.

Germany Strengthening Her Ports.

BERLIN, April 9.—In consequence of the Russian massing of troops on the Galician and Silesian frontiers, the German government has decided to strengthen the eastern frontier garrisons.

News of the Massacre Confirmed.

LONDON, April 9.—A letter from the leader of the Manipuris confirms the statement that Commissioner Quinlan and all the prisoners taken at the time of the attack on the British residence at Manipur were murdered.

MOURNING FOR BARNUM.

Flags at Half Mast Displayed at the Great Showman's Home.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 9.—Flags are displayed at half mast and emblems of mourning are general throughout the city for the loss of the world-known citizen, P. T. Barnum.

The funeral has been set for 2 o'clock on Friday afternoon, and it is probable that the services will be held in the South Congregational church as its seating capacity is the largest in the city.

Mrs. Barnum bears up remarkably well, and although much fatigued from loss of sleep, rests comfortably as could be expected. She has received numerous telegrams of sympathy. Mr. Barnum leaves an estate valued at $5,000,000, and the executors named are: Maj. W. B. Hincks, treasurer of the City Savings bank, this city, and Benjamin Fish, treasurer of the Barnum and Bailey show.

Crab Game Bailed.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 9.—At Blocton yesterday morning, Marshal Anderson and Policeman Albert Woods made a raid on a negro crap shooting den. As the officers entered the place Charley Dansby, a noted tough, shot Woods through the heart, killing him instantly. A pitched battle ensued between Anderson and the other toughs in which he killed one. The other escaped.

SENATOR EDMUNDS RESIGNS.

Personal Considerations Oblige Him to Terminate His Public Services.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Senator George F. Edmunds, of Vermont, who has been in the senate of the United States since April, 1886, and nearly all of that time has been one of the Republican leaders, has resigned, the resignation to take effect the first day of November next.

GEORGE F. EDMUNDS

The Senator's Reasons.

Senator Edmunds was asked for a statement of the reasons for his resignation. "I have resigned," said he, "from personal considerations solely. It is a pure matter of health. I cannot live in Washington during the winter. I suffer from throat trouble and the climate is too severe. I hold that a senator should attend to his duties, and if I cannot remain in Washington constantly I prefer to resign. I shall spend the winters in Aiken, S. C., visiting Washington occasionally to attend the sessions of the supreme court when I have business before it."

Regretted by Vermont's Governor.

MONTPELIER, Vt., April 9.—Governor Page, upon receiving Senator Edmunds' resignation, sent a reply to Mr. Edmunds, expressing sincere regret at his action in behalf of himself and the people of Vermont, and assuring him that in so doing he was enjoining the full measure of gratitude, respect and the affection to which his long and eminently distinguished services entitle him.

Wishes to Succeed Edmunds.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., April 9.—Senator Edmunds' resignation caused much surprise. The candidates for his place are Secretary Proctor, Congressman H. H. Powers and ex-Governor Greely Smith. The governor appoints, as the legislature is not in session.

ECHOES OF THE ELECTION.

The Majority Contest in Chicago Still Undecided—Elsewhere.

CHICAGO, April 9.—It is now claimed by the Democrats that all the returns have been received and the vote for mayor stands: Creiger, Democrat, 46,935; H. Washburne, Republican, 46,700. Creiger's plurality 235.

The Republicans on the other hand maintain that Hempstead Washburn has been elected, and only the official count will decide which is mayor. J. K. B. VanCleave, Republican, for city clerk, and L. F. Nicholson, Republican, for city attorney are elected beyond doubt. Peter Kiolbassa, Democrat, for city treasurer, is probably elected by a plurality of 300 or 400.

In Minnesota and South Dakota.

ST. PAUL, April 9.—The municipal elections in Minnesota have but this political significance: They show that the Alliance strength is being maintained everywhere and is creeping into the cities and towns. As far as can be learned 70 per cent. of the Alliance strength is drawn from the Republicans.

In South Dakota, Watertown elected a Democratic mayor, the rest of the successful ticket being Republicans. At Huron the Republicans got everything except the police magistrate.

At Pueblo, Col.

PUEBLO, Col., April 9.—The election in this city resulted in a Democratic victory. Hamilton, Democrat, was elected mayor by 221 majority. The Republicans elect treasurer and two aldermen.

A Mysterious Death.

HAMILTON, O., April 9.—The remains of William Cressey were found Tuesday morning lying near the Panhandle track at Crescentville, a few yards past the station and just across the Hamilton county line. His right arm was broken and the back of his head crushed in. In his pocket was found a bottle of whisky. It is supposed that he was returning from Port Union, where he was celebrating a Democratic victory, when he was struck by a train and killed. The body, however, is not at all mangled. The real cause of his death is a mystery; it might have been that he was murdered. It is generally supposed, however, that he met his death on the rail. He leaves a wife and two children in Crescentville.

Boy Killed By a Street Car.

CINCINNATI, April 9.—The 5-year-old son of Julius Kneale, the whitewasher living at 629 Elm street, was instantly killed by a street car at 3:30. The little fellow attempted to cross the track near Findlay street, when run down by a passing car. The wheels passed over his head, throwing his brains over the tracks.

Fatal Quarrel Over Twenty-Five Cents.

NASHVILLE, April 9.—Taylor Hamley in a quarrel with Joe Townsend yesterday afternoon, sixteen miles southwest of Huntsville, over a debt of twenty-five cents, cut his throat.

BASE BALL GAMES.

Opening of the American Association Season.

CHAMPIONSHIP RACE BEGUN.

The First Game Between Cincinnati and St. Louis Breaks Up in a Row and Is Given to the Latter—Louisville Defeats Columbus—Baltimore and Washington the Successful Clubs in the Other Two Contests.

ST. LOUIS, April 9.—The championship season of the American Association was inaugurated here yesterday with a game between the Cincinnati and St. Louis teams, which was characterized by some very disgraceful wrangling on the part of the visitors, resulting in the retirement of Kelly from the game during the fifth inning. The excitable umpiring by Gleason was the direct cause of the trouble.

The game at the close of the ninth inning was a tie, each side having scored seven runs, and the visitors tried by every means in their power to delay the game so that it would be called on account of darkness. They allowed the Browns to score eight runs, and when that side was finally retired, refused to continue the game. The umpire under the rules gave the game to the home team by a score of 9 to 0. About 2,500 persons attended the game.

The Score was:

Louisville Defeats Columbus.

LOUISVILLE, April 9.—Yesterday was a great day for base ball here. In the morning there was a parade, headed by the Association champions and the Columbus team and a band, which was viewed by a great many people. Five thousand people were at the game in the afternoon. The ceremony of hoisting the championship pennant was performed just previous to the game, amidst the enthusiasm of the spectators and the strains of "Old Kentucky Home" from the band. To add to the jubilation the home team snatched victory from the jaws of defeat in the ninth inning by splendid batting. Both teams fielded sharply.

The Score was:

Columbus..... 4 0 2 0 0 0 0 0—6

Baltimore Beats Boston.

BALTIMORE, April 9.—The championship season of the American Association was opened here yesterday with a game between the Baltimore and Boston. Nearly 5,000 persons were present and they gave the home team quite a flattering reception. The home team played a fine game both at the bat and in the field and took every advantage of the errors of their opponents. The individual feature was the batting of Dan Bronthers and Dick Johnson and the fielding of Dowd and Curt Welch.

The Score was:

Baltimore..... 0 1 7 0 0 3 0 0 11
Boston..... 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 1—7

Athlets 8, Washington 9.

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—The opening game of the American Association championship season was played here yesterday between the Athletics and the Washington clubs, with the following result:

Base hits—Athletics 11, Washington 13. Errors—Athletic 4, Washington 4. Batteries—Weyling and Cross, Casey and McGuire. Umpire—Jones.

Death of a Doller.

HELENA, Ark., April 9.—Last evening Jesse Oglesby was standing on the outer guards of the wharfboat at this place. He dropped a $1 piece from his pocket, and as it was rolling to the outer edge of the boat, he ran to pick it up, but fell into the river and was drowned before assistance could reach him.

Shot by an Italian.

PEARSALL, Tex., April 9.—Phillip Endizzi, an Italian, shot and instantly killed Jacob Stumpf, of Indiana, at Dilly, fourteen miles south of Pearsall, Sunday night. Both men were in Hattie's bridge gang. Officers are scouring the country for Endizzi.

OPERATORS AND MINERS.

They Fail to Reach an Agreement at the Pittsburgh Conference.

PITTSBURGH, April 9.—Yesterday's convention of operators and miners considered the report of the scale committee. It recommended that the base scale be fixed at sixty and sixty-nine cents for seasoned coal in the Pittsburgh and Ohio districts respectively. This was the parliamentary manner of setting the differential rate, nine cents, which shall prevail during the next scale year in favor of Ohio. The report was adopted.

Vice President Penna, of the United Mine Workers of America, asked the consent of the convention for the appointment of a special committee to take up the question of a reduction of the hours of labor. The chair ruled that nothing could now come before the convention, but the scale, without a suspension of rules, which required a two-thirds vote. The vote on suspension of the rules was strictly a partisan one.

Delegate Penna spoke at length, urging that the eight hour work day question was paramount to anything else, stating that it was a question that must be considered either in or out of the convention, and asked for a reconsideration of the votes.

Mr. Penna's remarks created a sensation and brought forth considerable discussion, in which it was argued that it was useless to arrange a scale and then split on the eight-hour question. An adjournment was then ordered and the operators went into secret conference; the miners remaining in caucus in the convention room. In their conference, it is stated, that the operators decided unanimously not to accede to the eight-hour work day.

When the convention reconvened in the afternoon, the intelligence of this decision created consternation among the miners. When one of their leaders heard it, he said: "That will end it, there is no use to continue this convention."

The afternoon session was devoted exclusively to the consideration of the eight-hour demand. Col. W. P. Reid seemed to be the only operator who was favorable to the eight-hour day. The conference will resume session on the same question.

TYPHUS FEVER

Of the Most Contagious and Deadly Form Appears in New York.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Typhus fever, about the most contagious and deadly of diseases, has made its appearance in New York. An autopsy made Tuesday upon the body of James Taylor, who recently came from Australia, showed that he had died of spotted typhus fever, the most malignant type of the dread disease. He was not known to be suffering from the disease until after his death, as he was sick for days before at his boarding house and Bellevue hospital. There is ground for grave apprehension that the disease may spread.

After a Service Pension.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 9.—At the annual meeting last night in this city of the Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Service Pension association, the secretary reported organizations in fifty-three counties, with a total membership of 20,000. Officers were elected as follows: President, Jasper E. Lewis, South Bend; vice president, Clay Wilkinson, Evansville; secretary, S. M. Holcomb, Fort Branch; treasurer, M. C. Rankin, Terre Haute; executive committee—at large, Alvin Hovey, Indianapolis; C. A. Zollinger, Fort Wayne; first district, S. M. Holcomb; second, Thomas A. Dawson; third, Andrew Fite; fourth, S. B. Tuthill; fifth, J. B. Mulkey; sixth, Thomas W. Bennett; seventh, William Tarlington; eighth, J. W. Haley; ninth, H. L. Byrnum; tenth, Mark L. Demotte; eleventh, George E. Gardner; twelfth, J. B. White; thirteenth, Jasper L. Lewis.

A committee on resolutions was appointed. Congress will be asked to pass a service pension law which also exempts soldiers from the operation of the civil service law. Steps were taken to recommend to the state encampment which meets to-day, delegates to the National encampment, who are pledged to vote for a service pension resolution.

A Woman's Forgiveness.

ATLANTA, April 9.—A pardon application of unusual interest came to the executive department Tuesday—that of a widow who asks for the release of C. C. Weeks, the man who killed her husband. The man in the penitentiary is the woman's brother, and since he has been a convict she has contributed largely to the support of his children. Her husband was killed in 1886, both himself and the murderer being drunk at the time.

Baron Fava in New York.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Baron Fava spent a quiet morning at the Victoria hotel and refused to see visitors. It was claimed that he was suffering from nervous prostration. Consul General Riva called at 10 o'clock and sent up his card. The baron refused to see the consul general at first, but he finally consented to admit him to the room. They talked for some time, and when Riva came away he refused to be interviewed.

Miss Amy's Adventure.

WHEELING, W. Va., April 9.—Miss Amy Morgan, who disappeared last Sunday night, returned home Tuesday morning. Her story, which is undoubtedly true, is that she was abducted by two men, who took her about eighteen miles from home in a hack, then left her. During the drive the men stopped at a house and asked for a room, but were refused. She is unharmed.

Three Hungarians to Be Hanged.

PITTSBURGH, April 9.—The three Hungarian laborers who were engaged in the riot at the Edgar Thompson steel works when Foreman Michael Quinn lost his life, were sentenced yesterday to be hanged. The case has received much attention from Socialists throughout the country.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1891.

DAVID S. TARBELL, one of Brown County's most talented young men, is now telegraph editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer. He started out in journalism as editor of the Georgetown News-Democrat, and is going right up to the front.

BALLOT reform has triumphed in New Hampshire as well as Maine, in spite of the strong opposition of the Republican bosses. At last there is an opportunity for a political revolution in these two states. We shall not be surprised to see both of them elect Democratic Governors next fall.—National Democrat.

"The News-Democrat advertised twenty pounds of granulated sugar at $1 last week for a firm in that village, but fails to state that the McKinley bill caused the reduction," says the Ripley Bee. And if taking the tax off sugar has made it so much cheaper, why would it not be a good plan to take the tariff off all the necessities of life?

The object of Mr. Dana's trip South has been discovered at last. He came down, it seems, to post himself on the political complexion of the members of the Farmers Alliance, and he tells in his paper, the New York Sun, that they are all Democrats, while in the North the order is calculated to divide the Republicans. A man of Mr. Dana's learning ought to have known this. Isn't the South solidly Democratic? The one object of his interview on this subject seems to be to put the Republicans on their guard and help them in the approaching National contest. And this man presumes to say who the Democrats should nominate!

Lessons From the Sugar Tax.

The Boston Journal, high tariff Republican, is hilarious, and we fear delirious, over the abolition of the sugar duty. On the 10th of March it exclaimed:

In three weeks from the present time we shall all be eating McKinley sugar, and we shall enjoy it the more because it will cost us 2 cents a pound less than we have been in the habit of paying. * * * Even the smallest child will realize the benefit of the change in an unexpected but most grateful thickening of the coating of molasses upon his slice of bread, and if he knew what he was about, he would hymn the praise of McKinley.

The removal of the duty, then, will result in a reduced price, and this will afford great delight to the people of the United States because it will reduce their expenses.

When Mr. McKinley arranged for the repeal of the sugar duty he sawed off the branch he and his friends were roosting on. After the people of the United States find out by sweet experience how much nicer untaxed sugar is than taxed sugar they will take the taxes off some other things. When they have learned from sugar that the tariff is a tax they can be depended on to see to it that the tariff is as low as possible.

Snacking its lips with delight at the prospects of free raw sugar, the Journal imprudently says:

The tax heretofore on the raw sugar from which the refined sugars are made has been from 2 1/2 to 3 cents per pound. This has been paid, first by the refiners and ultimately by the consumers. This tax the McKinley law wipes out altogether. The duty on refined sugars has been 3 to 3 1/2 cents per pound. This duty the McKinley law reduces to 1/2 cent a pound.

The duty, then, is advanced by the importer, but paid ultimately by the consumer. For many years the Journal and other papers of its class have been teaching their benighted readers that the consumers do not pay the duty; that the duty is paid by the foreigner.—National Democrat.

Reception at the Public Library.

The ladies of the Public Library Association will hold a reception Friday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock, at the Public Library on Sutton street. The improvements will be completed by that time. The Maysville Orchestra will furnish music for the occasion, and refreshments will be served. The citizens of Maysville and also of the county are cordially invited. The young ladies who took part in the carnival are invited to assist the members of the association at the reception.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

SHANNON.

The respect and honor shown their dead—the lovely tributes of song and speech paid to the departed—is a beautiful trait in the Kentucky character. The funeral of the late Mrs. Rachel W. Ray at Shannon Church Sunday, April 5th, called out a big congregation—the funeral cortege was large and the church was well filled. Rev. G. N. Jolly read a brief sketch (the result of the last visit) of the deceased, in which she announced that "All's well, and I am anxious to go." A song was sung by those present—she kissed her children and blessed and bade them meet her in heaven. A striking picture of happy living and a happy death. Rev. Dr. Anderson followed in an interesting and effective discourse based on the fourth chapter of Hebrews. Having the inspiration of a fine audience and a good subject, the doctor in his peroration so excelled in the emotional and pathetic as to baptize his auditors in tears. His careful reference to the "last kiss" of his own mother, on his return from his first round of preaching, with her blessing, was touching and inspiring; he applied it to the present case, and said it was "a legacy more to be valued by the children than the brightest jewel in the regalia of Queen Victoria, or the hoarded millions of Vanderbilt."

FRANKFORT.

The State Capital Contest Temporarily Ended in Her Favor.

The Next Legislature Will Forever End the Fight—Constitutional Convention so Decides.

The prolonged contest over the State capital question is temporarily ended, and Frankfort wins.

At yesterday's session the Constitutional convention refused to submit the matter to a vote of the people and the Capital will remain where it is now located unless the next Legislature sees fit to remove it to some other point.

The principal speech yesterday in favor of Frankfort was made by ex-Governor Knott. The Louisville Times' correspondent says: "He began by saying that he knew silence was sometimes golden, though speech was silver, but that he would consider himself recreant to the noblest impulses and duties of man if he did not raise his voice against any proposition looking to a breaking of faith with this fair city or toward doing an injustice to her. Then he paid a tribute to Frankfort and Frankfort people, and the tears came when he told of their treatment of him during the four years he lived among them.

"I see before me," he said, "those who, like myself, are approaching the deepening shadows of the dark beyond, whose feet have nearly touched the waters of the icy river of death. I abjure then not to end their honorable careers with injustice or bad faith to any man or set of men. I see before me those only yet in the beautiful spring time and noontide of life. I abjure then not to begin by making a mistake. I abjure you all not to send forth your honorable work here to an honest constituency bearing the damnable blot of repudiation that all the multitudinous seas can not efface."

"He turned then to the State's pledge to this city in return for what the city had done by the State. He told the story of the present location of the capital, and with scathing rhetoric denounced as despicable and to be despised the plan by which it was sought to break the faith that our fathers made.

"He sneeringly told of the promises of indemnity to the city by the city to whom her jewel should be sold. He wanted to know who was to indemnify the private citizen for what he should lose for having trusted in the thrice pledged honor of the Commonwealth. 'Mr. President,' he said, 'I beg of you, I pray you to, in the name of heaven, spare our Commonwealth this last bitter cup of humiliation and shame. If times had changed, and these changes demanded that the capital be removed, then remove as you promised to do, as the fathers agreed it should be removed, by a two-thirds vote of the Legislature, the representatives of the people.'"

Hon. C. J. Bronston spoke in favor of submitting the question to a vote of the people. He believed in the fundamental principles of the government he loved. He said that for seven months he had fought for the right of the people of this Commonwealth, in face of vituperative opposition and slander. He congratulated the delegates who had been with him, struggling for seven months for the Commonwealth's welfare, that those who, in the lobby, on the streets, and through the press, had abused and misrepresented them, were now raising their voices in charging him and them with breaking Kentucky's pledged troth. He accused the delegate from Marion (Mr. Knott) of awakening from a Van Winkle sleep of disinterestedness and scorn, that he was here with tears on his cheeks adjuring the young men not to, what—to allow the people to vote on this question.

Dr. Graham, of Marshall, followed in a speech for Frankfort, and Colonel Young closed for submitting the question. The discussion ended at 12 o'clock and the voting then commenced. All amendments were voted down, until the substitute providing that "the seat of Government of Kentucky shall remain at Frankfort, unless removed by a two-thirds vote of both houses of the General Assembly sitting first after the adoption of this Constitution." This was adopted by a vote of 52 to 38.

On the final vote Judge Whitaker, of this city, and Judge Field, of Bracken, voted in favor of Frankfort.

The amendment providing that not exceeding $2,500,000 shall be appropriated to build a capital building at Frankfort was defeated—yeas 9, nays 79.

Stock and Crop.

Gus Talbott, living near Frankfort, sold 40 barrels of corn at $4.25 a barrel. The State bought it and will distribute it for seed.

The Georgetown Times says: "Many of the peach buds were sufficiently developed to be seriously injured, if not killed, by the freeze the past week.

The Crocus.

"Rest, little sister," her sisters said—
Violet purple, and wild rose red—
"Rest dear, yet, till the sun comes out,
Till the hedges bud, and the grass blades sprout.
We are safe in this kindly earth, and warm—
In the upper world, there are alect and storm.
Oh, wait for the robin's true clear note,
For the sound of a drifting wag aloft;
For the laughter bright of an April shower
To call and wake you, sweet Crocus flower."

But brave heart Crocus said never a word,
Nor paused to listen for note of bird
Or laugh of rain drop. In rough green vest
And golden bonnet herself she dressed,
By the light of a glowworm's fire spark,
And softly crept up the stairway dark,
Out through the portal of frozen mold
Into the wide world, bleak and cold.
But somehow a sunbeam found the place
Where the snow made room for her lifted face.
—Madeline S. Bridges in Ladies' Home Journal.

Will Not Stay Down.

The engineers on the Fairhaven and Southern railroad in Oregon have struck another natural phenomenon only second to "the Devil's Breadpan." The gap of five miles in the track two miles beyond the boundary is a low, swampy place, which it was found necessary to pile. A forty foot pile was driven right into the swamp, and then another was driven over it. But the second pile would not stay down. As soon as the driver stopped pounding the pile began to rise again. Pounded as they would the workmen could not make that pile stay down, for at every blow it seemed to cry "resurgam," and rose again as soon as the pounding ceased.—Singleton (Cal.) Courier.

Tom Jones' Rabbit Ranch.

Tom Jones, a worthy colored man, living near the Northeastern depot in Athens, has domesticated a large colony of the old field gray rabbits. Tom has about twenty-five breeders, and says that rabbits are raised as easily as chickens. They run at large in the yard, and become as tame as house cats. They increase very fast, and sell readily at ten cents each for pets or cooking purposes. There are always orders ahead for them. They grow very fast, and from one pair he can raise more rabbits in a year than the best hen will raise chickens.—Atlanta Journal.

Every Italian in the service of the pope has been dismissed, and the duties of the domestics in the papal apartments, both in the antechamber and the interior, are transferred to foreigners. An inquiry had shown that Crispi had several secret agents in the Vatican.

Mr. Caminetti, who has been awarded a seat in the next congress, is of Italian parentage, but a native born Californian, and he is said to be the first man from California in either house who was born in the state.

Cincinnati Tobacco Market.

(Tuesday.)

The offerings were of only fair size for the opening sale day, and were, as usual, composed principally of a poor assortment of tobaccos, comprising common trash, lugs and non-descripts, of which the old stock very well, but for the new there was little interest shown, and prices were low. For the small number of hds medium to good and fine leaf, new or old, there was a fair market, and they sold readily at full prices. Of the 416 hds, 111 sold from $1 to $2.30, 108 from $1 to $3.55, 53 from $5 to $7.35, 32 from $8 to $9.80, 12 from $10 to $14.75, 23 from $15 to $19.50, and 3 from $20 to $22.75.

With large offerings there was an improvement over the previous day, and a firm, active market prevailed. Old good and fine leaf in active request being sought after and taken at full prices. Color, trash and lugs were active at full figures. Medium leaf in good demand, and the common grades held steadily and were selling well. There is a firm, and active market for medium to good leaf (new), and full prices are paid; the same is the case with all grades showing color and character. Common trash, lugs and non-descripts showed a slightly better demand, but prices are still low. Taken as a whole, there was a very satisfactory market.

Of the 790 hds, 157 sold from $1 to $3.50, 201 from $1 to $7.35, 136 from $5 to $7.35, 75 from $8 to $9.80, 12 from $10 to $14.75, 27 from $15 to $19.50, and 22 from $20 to $22.75.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best of All.

LATROBE, PA., Jan. 27, 1891.

Messrs. Chamberlain & Co., Des Moines, Iowa, Gentlemen: You have helped me considerably with a good medicine and splendid advertising. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the most popular cough medicine I handle.

Mrs. Griffith, wife of Supt. of the Latrobe steel works, always has your Cough Remedy in her house. I persuaded her to try it months ago; yesterday sold her the fourth bottle.

Samuel Osborne, a prominent contractor, tells me: "John MacMillan, you can't say too much for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Say all you can and I will put my name to it."

"Mr. MacMillan you remember asking me to try, just to try, a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for that terrible cough which I carried for months. Well! That cough is gone. Oh! My name is Miss Weiss."

Mr. Jos. Barnett, our bank cashier, had a tickling in his throat for four or five nights: "Mac, one dose only of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and I slept until morning."

Gentlemen, these are samples of hundreds that I know.

Think of the vast number of rough syrups sold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy excels them all. Sincerely yours,

JNO. C. MACMILLAN,

Proprietor of the Corner Drug Store.

REV. C. S. LUCAS will lecture at the Christian Church next Tuesday evening on "Novels and Novel Reading." The church was filled almost to its fullest seating capacity night before last on the occasion of his lecture on "Slang." His talk was a learned one. He told first how slang originated among the Gypsies and tramps and then talked of Wall street slang, political slang and the slang used in social circles, giving a partial list of the expressions most frequently heard. He claims that the newspaper, the stage and the dime novel are the three great disseminators of slang at the present time, the newspaper standing at the head of the list. He appealed to his audience to put all slangy expressions on the "black list" and never make use of them. If women knew the meaning of the slang frequently heard in social conversation, they would never make use of such expressions.

She Was Right.

"Turn that wrapping paper the other side out," said a woman in a dry goods store the other day, as the clerk was putting up her purchase in wrapping paper. "I don't want to be a walking advertisement for your store. I read the papers, as all intelligent people ought to do, and I think that in them is the place to advertise your business, instead of asking your customers to carry your sign around with each purchase, go tell the people through the papers what you have to sell it." The woman was right.—Ripley Bee.

Electricity Versus Steam.

Electricity for passenger service, steam for freight trains. That, so some good authorities declare, will be the apportionment of the rival energies on the railroad of the future. Steam at high speed requires quantities of coal and water, thus largely increasing the weight to be carried, while the wear and tear of the generating apparatus is thought to be almost double when continuously forced. With electricity, on the other hand, it is quite otherwise. The faster you go, the greater is the economy over steam. Indeed, as the speed increases the relative value of electricity propulsion increases enormously, an expert before a recent meeting of the Institute of Electrical Engineers declaring that at 120 miles an hour it is something like six times more economical than steam. "If," said he, "you can get 90 per cent. efficiency out of your electric service and have a frequent service at 20 miles an hour, electric propulsion is even then slightly more economical than steam propulsion." One of the best known electric motor manufacturers recently declared it to be his belief that in the near future express trains between populous centers like New York and Philadelphia would consist of two electric cars, to be started every ten minutes, and running at a speed of a mile a minute.—Scientific American.

AMERICAN FLOUR.

Almost Exclusively Barred from the London Market.

NO FACILITIES FOR SHIPPING.

A Letter on This Important Subject from Our Consul General at London, John C. New—Other Dispatches from Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Hon. John C. New, the consul general of the United States at London has sent to the state department a communication received by him from the secretary of the London Flour Trade Association, "bringing to my attention," says Mr. New in his letter of transmittal, "what seems to be a most serious state of affairs in the importation of American flour into this country."

In his letter the president of the association says that at present all flour sent to London from an inland station is sent on what is called a through bill of lading, the terms of which are fixed by a combination of all the principal United States railways, so that, although it is supposed to be free contract between the miller and the transportation company, it is in reality no such thing, as the miller, refusing to forward his flour on the one-sided document offered him, simply has to keep it or sell it in the United States. The secretary says the transportation companies contract themselves out of nearly every liability and that they do not undertake to deliver goods at any particular time.

Says the secretary in conclusion: "The terrible irregularities of this service have reached such a pitch that the trade with this country is most seriously hampered, no buyer being able to tell within many weeks when he is likely to receive his purchase, and we wish to impress upon you the fact that such a state of things resolves itself into a serious tax on the export of flour from your country, inasmuch as a large discount in price has to be allowed the buyer when taking the risks above referred to."

"The committee wish you to understand that, before asking for your valuable assistance in this matter, they have, individually and collectively, done all in their power to obtain a fair document, namely at least a reasonable time limit, but without the least effect, the combination interested in the present document being far too strong. May I ask you, therefore, to embody the above facts in any report you may be sending your government on the trade of this country, drawing particular attention to the effect they have on the exports of flour; and I would also ask you to be good enough to receive a small deputation from our association, with a view to explaining any matters in the above statement which may not be clear to you."

POWDER EXPERIMENTS.

The Navy Department Establishes a Plant of Its Own.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The navy department has made arrangements with the Dupont Powder company for the establishment of a plant for the manufacture of gun cotton and smokeless powder for naval use. Heretofore all the gun cotton used has been made at the Newport torpedo station, and experiments with smokeless powder have also been made there. The facilities at Newport are not sufficient, however, for the growing needs of the service.

No smokeless powder has yet been definitely adopted, although the ordnance bureau has conducted experiments with all the foreign and American powders that have given any promise of success. Thus far no smokeless powder has been a complete success, possessing, besides smokelessness, the qualities which characterize the best gun powders, progressive rate of burning, complete combustion within the gun, uniformity of action, and the minimum interior pressure with the maximum outer velocity. The most frequent failures have been lack of stability and complete homogeneity. Such a measure of success has been obtained, however, as to warrant confidence in the belief that a perfectly satisfactory powder will soon be produced.

DESIGNS FOR THE NEW COINS.

The Director of the Mint Issues a Circular to Artists.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Director Leach, of the United States mint, has issued a circular letter to artists about designs for the new coins. The following are the conditions under which designs will be considered:

1. They must be presented in the form of models or medallions in plaster, the models to be from four to eight inches in diameter; a separate design to be submitted for the obverse and reverse of the silver dollar, and separate designs for the obverse of the half dollar, quarter dollar and dime.
2. The models must be in what is known as "low relief," suitable for coins.
3. Each model submitted must be complete, with the denomination of the coin, and only such inscriptions as are required by law, together with the date (year).
4. The models must be submitted under seal to the Director of the Mint on or before June 1st.
5. An award not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500) will be made for each design accepted.

General Spinola Seriously Ill.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Gen. Spinola's condition is regarded as critical in the extreme, and his physicians feel less hopeful of their patient's recovery than at any time during the past week. His chances for recovery are now regarded as almost hopeless.

Parsonages Subject to Taxation.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 9.—In answer to a question by the state tax commission, Attorney General Smith gave an opinion yesterday by which all parsonages not on the same lot with the church edifice, must be listed for taxation. He said that the word "attached" as used in the tax law in relation to parsonages must be literally construed, and unless upon the same lot with churches, parsonages must be listed. This will make nine out of every ten parsonages in the state subject to taxation.

GOVERNOR FOWLE DEAD.

North Carolina's Chief Executive Suddenly Dies of Heart Disease.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 9.—Governor Fowle died suddenly Tuesday night at 11:30 of heart disease.

Daniel G. Fowle, was born in Washington, Beaufort county, N. C., in 1831.

At 20 years of age he was graduated at Princeton college with honor, and, returning to North Carolina, studied law. He was admitted to the bar in 1853, and soon after became a resident of Raleigh. He soon became a lawyer of eminence, but his career as an attorney was interrupted to enter the Confederate service as a lieutenant of infantry. He was made major and assistant commissary of subsistence, but was soon after promoted to be lieutenant colonel. He was captured by Burnside's force at the battle of Roanoke Island in 1862, but was paroled not long after. In the autumn of the same year he was elected to the legislature, and upon its adjournment Governor Vance made him adjutant general. In 1863 he resigned and again entered the legislature. At the close of the war he was made a judge of the North Carolina superior court. Judge Fowle resigned his judgeship in 1867, and from that time until he was nominated for governor May 31, 1888, he held a number of positions of trust.

A MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.

An Illinois Man Looking for the Body of His Uncle.

CINCINNATI, April 9.—R. F. Dow, of Elgin, Ill., is in the city trying to locate the body of Dr. M. Chambers, his uncle. Dr. Chambers is the man who died suddenly a few days ago at the Hotel Martin. When his body was taken charge of by the coroner, nothing but a few cents was found on it.

Inquiries were made for his relatives, and after a week the coroner received a telegram from a woman in New Orleans who claimed to be Chambers' wife. She was very particular in her inquiry about what property was found on his person, but left the Order of Free Masons to bury him, saying she would not be here. After receiving this telegram the coroner ordered the body buried, and it was interred in the potter's field.

Now it seems the news of Chambers' death has just reached his friends and relatives. Mr. Dow says that his uncle was possessed of considerable means, receiving big royalties on several valuable patents. He came to Cincinnati on his way to Washington, D. C., to look after some of his patents, and was supposed to have plenty of money.

An investigation shows that Chambers' body has been removed from the city cemetery, and has probably been taken to some medical college. Mr. Dow is now on a search among the colleges trying to find it. He says that Chambers was never married, and that the woman in New Orleans is an impostor. The case is very mysterious one, and in all probability the police will be called upon to help solve the problem.

Called to His Door and Shot.

MACON, Ga., April 9.—Monday night Washington Mulkey, of Gilmer county, was called to his door and shot by a band of masked men. Mulkey died in a few hours. Another victim of the masked men was William Nailer, of the same place, who was taken from his bed and carried into the woods, where he was whipped most horribly. He was gouged in the eye by a gun barrel and his eye knocked out. He was warned to leave the state within twenty-four hours. Mulkey and Nailer were suspected of giving information to the revenue officers in regard to moonshiners.

A Child's Sad Fate.

FINDLAY, O., April 9.—An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Bolice, of Mount Cory, died from the effects of injuries caused by falling into an open fire. The child's shoulder, back, thighs, arms and the left side of its face were burned to a crisp. The baby was less than 2 years of age, and was left at home alone with a 3-year-old brother. The mother, it is said, was in the habit of going away from home and leaving her young children alone.

A Senator Chosen.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 9.—The Democrats of the legislature caucused and chose John B. Brown for the senate by 17 to 14. He was Call's candidate. The anti-Call men voted for him, but there were two or three Call men among the supporters of Capt. J. A. Banya, the anti-Call candidate. The Call men won a victory in the choice of Dr. J. L. Caskins for the speaker of the house. The vote was 43 to 21.

Refused to Compromise.

ENGLISH, Ind., April 9.—The famous White Sulphur well, about eight miles south of here, is likely to get into court by means of a mistake in the present owner buying a warranty right from a widow, who had but a life-time right. The litigation will involve $50,000. John Boyd, the present owner, has proposed a compromise by paying the heirs $13,000, but they refuse to accept.

Nitro-Glycerine Works Blown Up.

PETROLIA, Ont., April 9.—Bradley's nitro-glycerine works at this place blew up about 6 o'clock yesterday evening. Three workmen—Albert Bradley, James Chambers and L. M. Deermood—were instantly killed. Their remains were scattered over five acres of ground. How many more, if any, were in the building at the time of the explosion is at present unknown.

Some Hope For Bezenah.

CINCINNATI, April 9.—Bezenah continues to grow slightly stronger, but the doctors do not say that he will recover. A reaction is liable to take place at any time.

Elevator Destroyed by Fire.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 9.—The Diamond elevator burned yesterday. The loss is total, $40,000, half on the building and half on the contents, fully insured. It contained hay, corn, oats, buckwheat and three cars of flour.
